Disclaimer

We provide advice and encouragement in the decluttering and organising processes. It is ultimately your decision to let go of items and we accept no responsibility for the actions you take on the basis of our advice, whether given at the time of the initial consultation, during the organising or decluttering process, or at any subsequent or future date.

You will be responsible for obtaining from other parties (e.g. landlord, government or competent authority) any consents that may be necessary for our services to be provided.

We do not have the relevant expertise to identify items of special value and/or rarity. In such cases, you are advised to seek your own valuations of any items. We can make enquiries on your behalf (charged at our hourly rates) but we can accept no responsibility for your relationship with such service providers and it is important you are satisfied that their service and prices are suitable for your requirements.

We handle items with care. You acknowledge that we will not be held liable for accidental damage or loss howsoever caused.

We will not be liable to you if we do not perform our services for reasons beyond our control or otherwise.

We hold liability insurance with an indemnity of £1,000,000.

Limits of work

We do not provide a cleaning or removal service. Any large or heavy items that need removing may require a third party to help. We can point you to removal companies, cleaning services and handymen who can assist. However, you must make the ultimate decision who to use and we cannot take responsibility for any actions of any such third party.

You must inform us if there are any hazards in your home that we need to be aware of e.g. rodents, mould, etc. If access is restricted or unsafe, we reserve the right to charge for lost time and expenses incurred.

Removal of items

Items to be removed from your premises must be done at your own discretion and by yourself. We can help you load your car and come with you in your car to help unload at a legally permitted location e.g. a recycling centre or refuse tip. However, we cannot use our own vehicle to transport and dispose of items. We can help you take items to local charity shops. Any time spent in doing so will be charged at our hourly rates.

Breaks

Decluttering can be tiring and we advise taking short breaks throughout the process to ensure energy and motivation are preserved. We will help you declutter at your own pace although guiding you with our expertise. A 30 minute break is required for any sessions lasting over five consecutive hours.
